- Reflect on likely impact on young people , especially those coming to your service after this pandemic experience
- Reflect on the potential impact of multi agency issues going forward

What next?

- A lot to think about? Need to plan.....
- Are RM's and RI's confident in the short term , medium term?
- Do you have clear views at the moment of the impact(s) / interventions/ potential issues for vulnerable young people at home , in school , with mentors, online learning, emotional health, in broader society?
- Do you have clear links and input to senior leadership processes in relation to COVID-19 and the longer term strategic planning which will be necessary for the service?
- This is an evolving situation and we will need to continue responding at different points and phases
- Any other thoughts.....?

“Everyone’s Talking “ – impact:-

Following the disclosures on this website (now over 16,000) most relating to the experience of young people (largely girls and young women) of sexual assault / sexual violence in a range of school settings the Department for Education set up a review process to take place during May 2021. This has three key areas of reference:

- safeguarding and the curriculum
- multi- agency safeguarding arrangements
- victim’s voice and reporting

This naturally cross references to the residential and early years areas so worth making sure that you have looked at your safeguarding arrangements, your teams are up to date and can speak to what they would do in these circumstances

- Early themes from inspections include:
 - Safeguarding
 - How you hear and act upon the child’s voice
 - Impact of the pandemic on the young people- with an especial focus on progress/ education – make sure your education links/ communication are secure
 - Any other thoughts? Any feedback from anyone who has already had an inspection since the start of April ?

Children's Commissioner:

- launch of the Big Ask -

<https://www.childrenscommissioner.gov.uk/thebigask/>

- "This is your chance to have your say on the things that matter to you. You can tell us what your life is like, what you want in the future, and anything you think is holding you back.

We'll use what you say to tell the people who run the country or your local area what you think needs to change to make your life better."

The Big Ask continued:

- The results from 'The Big Ask' will be at the heart of the Childhood Commission, a once in a generation review of the future of childhood, inspired by the ambition of William Beveridge's pioneering 1940s report, which laid the foundations of the post-War social security system. The Childhood Commission will identify the barriers preventing children from reaching their full potential, propose solutions and come up with targets by which improvements can be monitored.
- Closes May 28th
